

Cat Vaccination Schedule Template

+ Owner Guide

Missed boosters can leave gaps in protection and often result from forgotten dates rather than lack of care. Use the tracker below to record every vaccine, next due date, reminder method, and vet contact in one place.

Kitten Vaccination Schedule

Many kittens receive core vaccines in a series starting around 8 to 9 weeks, followed by additional doses as advised by a veterinarian, usually at 12 weeks. This is the FVRCP combination vaccine providing protection against feline viral rhinotracheitis, calicivirus, and panleukopenia (feline distemper)

Adult Cat Booster Tracking

Adult cat boosters are usually administered every year and will incorporate general health checks. Record boosters immediately after each visit and schedule the next reminder before leaving the clinic.

How to Never Miss a Vaccine Again

Use three reminders: calendar, email, and a vet appointment card. Keep this sheet updated after every visit.
